WHO WILL FOLLOW THIS NOTICE

This notice describes the privacy practices followed by us, and the office personnel who manage our practice at the above address.

YOUR HEALTH INFORMATION

This notice applies to the information and records we have about your health, health status, and the counseling and care services you have received through Valley Mental Health. Your health information may include information created and received by your therapist, it may be in the form of written or electronic records or spoken words, and may include information about your health history, health status, symptoms, counseling, evaluations, test results, prescriptions, diagnoses, treatments, procedures, and related billing activity and/or similar types of health-related information.

We are required by law to give you this notice. It will tell you about the ways in which we may use and disclose health information about you and describes your rights and our obligations regarding the use and disclosure of that information.

HOW WE AND OUR OFFICE PERSONNEL MAY USE AND DISCLOSE HEALTH INFORMATION ABOUT YOU

We may use and disclose health information for the following purposes:

For treatment. With your written consent we may release information to your primary care physician and /or other treating physicians, therapists, counselors, care givers, office staff or other personnel who are involved in taking care of you and your health.

For example, your doctor may be treating you for a health condition and may need to know if you have issues or problems that could complicate your treatment. The doctor may use this information to decide what treatment is best for you. We may need to confer with your doctor or another clinician in the field of our practice to assist us in a choice of treatment that would be best for you.

Different personnel may share information about you and disclose information to people who do not work in your therapist's office in order to coordinate your care, such as scheduling appointments and tests. Family members and other health care providers may be part of your medical care and may require information about you that we have.

For payment. We may use and disclose health information about you so that the treatment and services you receive may be billed to and payment may be collected from you, an insurance company or a third party.

For example, we may need to give your health plan information about a service you received so your health plan will pay us or reimburse you for the service. We may also tell your health plan about a treatment you are going to receive to obtain prior approval, or to determine whether your plan will pay for the treatment.

For Health Care Operations. We may use and disclose health information about you in order to make sure that you and our other clients receive quality care. For example, we may use your health information to evaluate the performance of the office personnel who are caring for you. We may also use health information about all or many of our clients to help us decide what additional services we should offer, how we can become more efficient, or whether certain new treatments are effective.

We may also disclose your health information to health plans that provide you insurance coverage and other health care providers that care for you. Our disclosures of your health information to plans and other providers may be for the purpose of helping these plans and providers provide or improve care, reduce cost, coordinate and manage health care and services, train staff and comply with the law.

Appointment Reminders. Office personnel may contact you by phone as a reminder that you have an appointment for counseling. Please specify to office personnel what phone numbers they may use to remind you of appointments. Please notify us if you do not wish to be contacted for appointment reminders.

Treatment Alternatives. We may tell you about or recommend possible treatment options or alternatives that may be of interest to you.

Health-Related Products and Services. We may tell you about health-related products or services that may be of interest to you.

SPECIAL SITUATIONS

We may use or disclose health information about you for the following purposes, subject to all applicable legal requirements and limitations:

To Avert a Serious Threat to Health or Safety. We may use and disclose health information about you when necessary to prevent a serious threat to your health and safety or the health and safety of the public or another person.

Required By Law. We will disclose health information about you when required to do so by federal, state or local law.

Military, Veterans, National Security and Intelligence. If you are or were a member of the armed forces, or part of the national security or intelligence communities, we may be required by military command or other government authorities to release health information about you. We may also release information about foreign military personnel to the appropriate foreign military authority.

Workers' Compensation. We may release health information about you for workers' compensation or similar programs. These programs provide benefits for work-related injuries or illness.

Public Health Risks. We may disclose health information about you for public health reasons in order to prevent or control disease, injury or disability; or report births, deaths, suspected abuse or neglect, non-accidental physical injuries, reactions to medications or problems with products.

Health Oversight Activities. We may disclose health information to a health oversight agency for audits, investigations, inspections, or licensing purposes. These disclosures may be necessary for certain state and federal agencies to monitor the health care system, government programs, and compliance with civil rights laws.

Lawsuits and Disputes. If you are involved in a lawsuit or a dispute, we may disclose health information about you in response to a court or administrative order. Subject to all applicable legal requirements, we may also disclose health information about you in response to a subpoena.

Law Enforcement. We may release health information if asked to do so by a law enforcement official in response to a court order, subpoena, warrant, summons or similar process, subject to all applicable legal requirements.

Coroners, Medical Examiners and Funeral Directors. We may release health information to a coroner or medical examiner. This may be necessary, for example, to identify a deceased person or determine the cause of death.

Information Not Personally Identifiable. We may use or disclose health information about you in a way that does not personally identify you or reveal who you are.

Family and Friends. We may disclose health information about you to your family members or friends if we obtain your verbal agreement along with your written authorization to do so. We will give you an opportunity to object to such a disclosure and request you state this in writing. We may also disclose information to your family or friends if we can infer from circumstances, based on our professional judgment that you would not object. For example, we may assume you agree to limited disclosure of information to your spouse when you bring your spouse with you to a counseling session and have not requested in writing that any form of disclosures cannot be made.

In situations where you are not capable of giving consent (because you are not present or due to your incapacity or medical emergency), we may, using our professional judgment, determine that a disclosure to your family member or friend is in your best interest. In that situation, we will disclose only health information relevant to the person's involvement in your care. For example, we may inform the person who accompanied you to the emergency room that you suffered a heart attack and provide updates on your progress and prognosis. We may also use our professional judgment and experience to make reasonable inferences that it is in your best interest to allow another person to act on your behalf.

OTHER USES AND DISCLOSURES OF HEALTH INFORMATION

We will not use or disclose your health information for any purpose other than those identified in the previous sections without your specific, written Authorization. If you give us Authorization to use or disclose health information about you, you may revoke that Authorization, in writing, at any time. If you revoke your Authorization, we will no longer use or disclose information about you for the reasons covered by your written Authorization, but we cannot take back any uses or disclosures already made with your permission.

We will need specific, written authorization from you in order to disclose certain types of specially-protected information such as HIV, substance abuse, mental health, and genetic testing information.
